Course Description:

In present world Brand is the most powerful element to attract consumers. Often the history of a company's success or even failure is seen through the single perspective of the brand, without taking into account all the other conditions that influences this success or failure. A brand is the tool, which a company can use to become. The interrelationship between the business strategy and the brand strategy needs to be perfect to launch and maintain a brand that can bring success for the business enterprise. Brands often influences perceptions for the customers and stakeholders as well as create emotional attachments for the consumers to participate in voluntary brand promotions. So this course is considered to be an essential course to understand the interrelationship between the business strategy and the brand strategy that will develop marketing skills and expertise of the students for managing brands in a competitive world.

The objective of the course is to increase the students understanding of Brand Management strategies and practices through taking part in class discussions, written examination, analysis of articles, case studies, seminars and group project works. By the end of the course the students are expected to:

- Understand the importance of brands in present world.
- Gain knowledge regarding different techniques and strategies related to brand positioning and management.
- Understand the impact of the real-life strategies and practices on creating and sustaining a brand in the present competitive world.
- Understand the importance of co-ordination between the business strategy and the brand strategy to develop an effective brand nationally and globally.

Course Organization

The course will be conducted through holding six lectures and discussions on the topics of Managing Brands. Students are requested to attend the six lectures. Moreover, students need to submit the individual home exams as well as individual assignment on article analysis and group case study assignment on brand management practices of Real Life Brands as part of the evaluation for this course. It is compulsory for the students to participate in the individual article analysis seminar and group case study seminar. The students also need to submit their home exams and assignments on safe assign of Blackboard on time as per course schedule to receive grades.

Communication

The communication between students and teacher will be face to face during lectures, seminars and pre-scheduled meetings as well as through e-mails and discussions on Blackboard. The course contents, schedules, and information will be uploaded in the Blackboard and all important announcements related to the course will be also on the Blackboard. Moreover, individual or group emails will be sent to the students' email accounts regarding important matters related to course.

Course Evaluation

There will be an online course evaluation form uploaded on black board on week 23 for the course and students need to do the online evaluation to receive their final grade.
