

The Centre gets advise on research and research priorities from an External Scientific Advisory Board consisting of excellent national and international scientists from relevant research fields within the extensive collaborative network of CBF. After 3, 5 and 7 years, workshops will be arranged for the External Scientific Committee, where current results and plans of the Centre will be brought up for evaluation and possible reorientation. A particular emphasis will be put on the workshop of year 5, in order to co-ordinate it with the stakeholder conference described above.
